STORRS PROFESSOR COMING TO JUDGE CORN.

Professor Garrigus to Make Awards at Norwich Grange's Open Meeting.

In connection with the meeting of Norwich Grange, No. 172, Patrons of Husbandry, this evening the corn growing prizes offered by the New London County Agricultural society are to be awarded.

Prof. L. A. Garrigus is coming here from Storrs Agricultural college for that purpose. The meeting of the grange is to be opened at 7.30, which is half an hour earlier than usual, for the purpose of having the corn judging, and will be an open one at that time.

Secretary Charles D. Greenman of the County Agricultural society said on Tuesday that he could not tell how many entries there would be, but there had been quite a number who declared their intention to enter when the competition was announced last spring.

The conditions call for the entry of ten ears of corn grown by any male resident of New London county. The prizes offered total $30, and are in order as follows: $10, $5, $4, $2.

They were offered by the Agricultural society in the expectation of trying to create some interest in corn growing in the county.

After the judging by Professor Garrigus he is to give a talk upon the subject of Corn Growing.

It is noticeable that so far this month there have been few of the regulation November fogs.

NO BUSINESS FOR SUPERIOR COURT

Two Cases Assigned For Trial Here Were Both Settled—Session of Court at New London Was Also Short—One Defendant Unable to be Present Because of a Shock.

The superior court, with Judge Milton A. Shumway presiding, convened in this city Tuesday morning, but it was in session only a few minutes, two cases which had been assigned for trial having been settled.

One was the case of George J. Braggaw of New London against Frederick H. Gavitt, proprietor of the Hotel Royal. The suit was for damages for assault and battery alleged to have been committed by the defendant at the latter's farm in Waterford.

The other was the case of Lena Becker against the city of New London. This was a suit for damages for personal injuries which the plaintiff received in a fall from a sidewalk. The possibility of a settlement in the case of Isidore Horowitz against Alfred G. Haskell, assigned for trial Wednesday, was announced.

Suit Over Barber's Itch. The case of Adams against Squarrito, a suit based on the allegation that the plaintiff received the barber's itch while being shaved in the barber shop of the defendant, assigned for trial Wednesday, went over until Thursday because Attorney Rathbun, counsel for the defendant, is engaged in trying a suit in the common pleas court.

Three Cases Continued. Three cases which were assigned for

HIS FATHER BUILT FIRST NOANK LIGHTHOUSE

G. Ledyard Daboll Was 82 Years Old on Tuesday.

G. Ledyard Daboll, one of Noank's oldest and most respected residents, reached his eighty-second birthday on Tuesday. Mr. Daboll was born in Centre Groton, Nov. 11, 1831. When six weeks old his parents moved to Noank. His father built the first lighthouse in Noank and afterwards became the first keeper of the light. He attended the common school of those days in the village, after which he entered the employ as clerk of William Latham, who kept a general store now occupied by C. M. Cheney. When working on customers and business permitted, his spare time was passed in the adjoining shipyard watching the carpenters at work, which proved so fascinating that he finally resigned his position at the store and entered the employ of the Palmers, Jan. 1, 1850, who at that time only did a large amount of shipbuilding. For more than 60 years Mr. Daboll has been in the employ of the Palmer Shipbuilding Co., with the exception of three months in 1869, at which time he made a trip to Europe as assistant sailing master of James Gordon Bennett's yacht "Dante" and visited several European countries.

Returning to Noank he again took up his abode with the Palmer company and since that time has had charge of a large number of vessels which the company has built. In later years he has held the position of draughtsman. The 3,000 ton barge for the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Co., which has just been framed, was from the lines drafted by him on the floor and he has had something to do in the construction of 80 of the 675 different craft built by the firm since that time. During the past month he has laid down the lines for the tug which the Palmer company has contracted to build for the Erie Railroad Co. and is at the yard every day watching the progress of the work in its different stages of construction. One who hardly expects to find a man of his advanced age with faculties unimpaired, but Mr. Daboll enjoys excellent health and a genial disposition which probably accounts for much of his youthfulness.

On May 1, 1851, Mr. Daboll married Miss Jane Ashby, who is still living. They have three sons, Capt. Ezra Daboll, pilot on the Providence line of steamboats; Capt. John Daboll, who is engaged in the fishing business in Noank; and Melville Daboll, foreman at the Palmer shipyard; also three daughters, Mrs. Lawrence Ashcroft of Noank, Mrs. John Erskine of Clifton Park, N. J., and Mrs. Jasper Greenwood of North East Harbor, Nova Scotia.

REACHES ITS MAJORITY. Wednesday Afternoon Literary Club Celebrates Anniversary at Home of Mrs. C. L. Richards.

Tuesday the Wednesday Afternoon Literary club observed its 21st anniversary, and in honor of the occasion a luncheon was served at the home of the vice president, Mrs. Charles L. Richards, Broadway. The beautiful table decorations consisted of pink and white roses. A dainty menu was served. An interesting feature of the luncheon was the large birthday cake with 21 lighted candles which was given by Miss Jane Bill. The frosting of the cake was pink and green with pink carnations in the center. There were original verses on the pretty hand-painted place cards, the artistic work of Miss Mary Alken and Miss Ruggles. Mrs. Leonard W. Jackson was toastmistress. Since the organization of the club Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Richards have been president and vice president, and during the hour given over to the responding of toasts Mrs. Perkins presented a handsome brooch by the club, Mrs. Richards making the presentation speech, to which Mrs. Perkins feelingly responded. Letters were read from the following who were unable to attend: Mrs. E. H. Nelson of Albany, N. Y.; Mrs. Charles J. Carew of Atlantic City; Mrs. Jean Porter Rudd of New York city; Mrs. Frank W. Browning of Kitteraus; Miss Louise C. Howe, Miss Adelaide Butts and Miss Anna Ely. Mrs. Thomas Harland and Mrs. Henry Ruggles are honorary members of the club. Miss Richards and Miss Ada L. Richards assisted at the luncheon.

Those who attended the anniversary celebration were as follows: President Mrs. W. S. C. Perkins, Vice President Mrs. C. L. Richards, Secretary and Treasurer Mrs. E. H. Linnell, Recording Secretary Miss Hannah Crowell, Mrs. William B. Birge, Mrs. H. A. Tirrell, Mrs. C. D. White, Miss Mary Alken, Mrs. L. W. Bacon, Mr. Adam Reid, Mrs. B. P. Learned, Mrs. Henry Ruggles, Miss Annie L. Ruggles, Miss Ella Norton, Miss Jane Bill, Mrs. C. R. Butts, Mrs. William Austin, Mrs. W. T. Olcott.

Brakeman Injured When Trains Bumped. William H. Armstrong, a brakeman on the switcher, was thrown in such a way that his knee was painfully injured on Monday evening when the switcher with four loaded box cars collided with the Willamantic work train a short distance north of the New Haven station.

trial in the superior court in New London before Judge Gardner Greene Tuesday morning were continued. Judge Greene was notified Monday night that none of the cases could be tried and he did not go down from Norwich. Deputy Sheriff John Carroll opening and adjourning court immediately. Adjournment was taken until Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in Norwich.

The three cases assigned were Stephen N. Bond et al against Samuel T. Littlefield, New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad against Armstrong Perry & Armstrong and the divorce case of Ellonsky against Ellonsky.

The case of Bond et al against Littlefield was continued for assignment. This is a suit for specific performance of a contract to sell real estate in South Lyme. The defendant was unable to be present in court because of a shock he sustained recently and a continuance was asked. Hull, McGuire & Hull appear for the defendant.

The case of the New Haven road against Armstrong, Perry & Armstrong was continued because of the inability of Judge Stoddard of New Haven, counsel for the defendant company, to be present. This is a suit in which the road seeks the defendants, owners of the Armstrong, Perry & Armstrong building in Bank street, from building piers the rear of their building in Shaw ave.

The divorce case of Ellonsky vs. Ellonsky was continued by agreement of counsel.

CHARGED WITH HAVING STOLEN COPPER INGOTS

Members of New London Metal Firm Held for Federal Court.

Barnet Greenblatt and Barnet Gordon, doing business as the Eastern Metal and Metal Co., of New London, were held in the sum of $1,000 each for the federal court Tuesday afternoon there by order of United States Commissioner W. Butler, on the charge of having in their possession 19 ingots of copper, which are alleged to have been stolen, while in the employ of the New London Metal firm. The hearing was held in the office of Commissioner Butler, which was filled to its limit with witnesses and spectators. United States District Attorney Scott of Hartford conducted the case for the government and Attorney John C. Geary represented the defendants. The testimony presented an interesting and peculiar chain of events. In brief a large shipment of copper ingots was made from New York in a sealed car on Sept. 20. As is the custom the ingots were counted before the car was sealed and a record made of the number. Upon the arrival of the car in Boston it was found that there was a shortage of 19 ingots. The seals of the car, however, were intact.

Some days later ingots similar in appearance and marking to those in the shipment were sold by the Eastern Metal and Metal Co. to Frank E. Arthur & Co., metal refiners, doing business at East Hampton. During the progress of the hearing it appeared that Mr. Arthur was not only a metal refiner, but also a special agent in the employ of the New London Metal firm, and that immediately upon securing the ingots from the New London Metal firm he turned over the information to the railroad authorities.

CHALLENGE OF MANHOOD.

Subject of Interesting Address by Rev. P. C. Wright at Y. M. C. A.

The Challenge of Manhood was the subject for the address by Rev. P. C. Wright of Philadelphia at the second of the "week of prayer" meetings at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday noon. There was a good number present. He spoke in part as follows:

I am conscious that sometimes ministers are accused of too great idealism. While I doubt if such a thing is possible, yet in the present instance at least I want to speak from the point of view of expediency.

Evil Among Blessings. Two elements of human life need to be mentioned as we pass: 1. Blessing always seems to arouse evil. The man who is successful will always be suspected; misjudged; condemned. And some way or other people are always willing to believe evil of other people. Always willing to misconstrue their motives. And stories that are told are never repeated without addition is made which gives them an increase of evil appearance.

Moreover, evils grow up in the midst of blessings. We are finding this every day. In our own country many of the prominent evils are due to our great blessings.

Vitality Undiminished. 2. The second element to be noticed is that blessings undermine the vitality of nations. Blessings have a tendency to lull to sleep by their very mercies. What blessings we Americans have received, but how dull our moral judgments have become in some things. It may truly be said that no people have been given such a high type of home as has been developed on our shores and in this country in the world has lost its ideal of the marriage tie to such an extent as ours except that nation where legitimacy of childhood is a striking feature. We must blush every time our marriage ties are mentioned because of their laxity.

And this in the face of the known fact that the religious sanction alone furnishes the foundation for moral civilization.

I challenge your manhood today in the name of those who gave you birth and laid down at your feet blessings of any kind.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove it.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system.

They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are pure— a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

of untold value to you. They are dead, but they are speaking to you. Again we are challenged by our tasks. The great Lincoln felt this as he stood on the battlefield of Gettysburg. He said it is rather "for us to be dedicated to the great task remaining before us." He felt that the entire American manhood was challenged by the deeds who there had given the last full measure of devotion.

How Meet the Challenge? When we stand to consider the challenge of our inheritance and our tasks, we are made to stand in awe before them. How, we ask, shall we be able to meet the challenge?

Just because these inheritances are spoken of in the mass, they are none the less personal. Just because these tasks are mentioned in the terms of national world life, they are none the less individual. It comes right back to you and to me. How shall you and I meet these challenges?

If we walk and talk with Him; if we are friends with Him, then we shall walk uprightly; then we shall have wisdom and spirit. Men, if the years have found us straying away from God, let us find our way back. A splendid way has been prepared. The way back is via the cross. The path was made for you. It was made for me. Let us walk in it and find the life and power to meet our challenges.
